Wordsearch Popular Russian Names

Category: Learn Russian

Popular Russian Names

This wordsearch aims to enhance knowledge about common names used in Russia. It includes many popular male and female names such as Alexander, Ivan, Olga, Sergei, Natalia, and many more. Solving this word search not only fosters cognitive skills, but also offers insights into Russian culture and naming traditions. It is a fun way to explore the richness and diversity of names in this vibrant country.

Russian Names and Their English Counterparts

Russian Word	English Translation	English Phonetic
Иван	Ivan	ee-VAHN
Мария	Maria	mah-REE-yah
Алексей	Aleksey	ah-lek-SEY
Татьяна	Tatyana	taht-YAH-nah
Елена	Elena	yeh-LEN-ah
Ольга	Olga	OL-gah
Михаил	Mikhail	mee-kha-EEL
Павел	Pavel	PAH-vyell
Игорь	Igor	EE-gor
Наталья	Natalia	nah-TAL-yah
Сергей	Sergey	sir-GAY
Юлия	Julia	YOO-lee-ah
Анна	Anna	AH-nah
Юрий	Yuri	YOO-ree
Ирина	Irina	ee-REE-nah
Ксения	Xenia	KSEH-nee-yah
Борис	Boris	boh-REES

Роман	Roman	roh-MAHN
Нина	Nina	NEE-nah
Олег	Oleg	OH-leh-g
Вера	Vera	VEH-rah

Some Interesting Facts About The Russian Names

Иван — Ivan is a popular Russian name that has its origins in the ancient Hebrew name "Yohanan," meaning "God is gracious."

Мария — Maria is a common name in Russia, derived from the Latin name "Maria," which is a form of the Hebrew name "Miriam," meaning "beloved" or "wished-for child."

Алексей — Alexei is a Russian name that has Greek origins, derived from the name "Alexios," meaning "defender" or "protector."

Татьяна — Tatiana is a Russian name of Latin origin, derived from the Roman family name "Tatius."

Елена — Elena is a popular Russian name that is derived from the ancient Greek name "Helene," meaning "bright" or "light."

Ольга — Olga is a traditional Russian name with Scandinavian roots, derived from the Old Norse name "Helga," meaning "holy" or "blessed."

Михаил — Mikhail is a Russian form of the name Michael, which has Hebrew origins meaning "who is like God."

Павел — Pavel is a common Russian name derived from the Latin name "Paulus," meaning "small" or "humble."

Игорь — Igor is a Slavic name that means "warrior" or "hero."

Наталья — Natalia is a Russian name derived from the Latin word "natalis," meaning "birthday" or "Christmas."

Сергей — Sergei is a popular Russian name with Greek origins, derived from the name "Sergios," meaning "servant" or "soldier."

Юлия — Yulia is a Russian form of the name Julia, which is of Latin origin and means "youthful" or "downy-bearded."

Анна — Anna is a classic Russian name that is of Hebrew origin, meaning "grace" or "favor."

Юрий — Yuri is a Russian form of the Greek name "George," meaning "farmer" or "earthworker."

Ирина — Irina is a popular Russian name that has Greek origins, derived from the name "Irene," meaning "peace."

Ксения — Ksenia is a traditional Russian name that has Greek roots, derived from the name "Xenia," meaning "hospitality."

Борис — Boris is a Slavic name that means "snow leopard" or "wolf."

Роман — Roman is a common Russian name that is of Latin origin, meaning "citizen of Rome."

Нина — Nina is a Russian name that is of Spanish origin, derived from the name "Nina," meaning "little girl" or "great-granddaughter."

Олег — Oleg is a traditional Russian name with Scandinavian roots, meaning "blessed" or "holy."

Вера — Vera is a popular Russian name that means "faith" or "belief."